

The Washington County Literary Club welcomes you to

An Evening of

Gothic Horror Stories

October 29, 2016 - 6pm

decarli restaurant, Beaverton Oregon

The Washington County literary club proudly presents an evening of conversation and horror storytelling from some of the world's most famous Gothic horror story writers. This event will benefit the Experience Theatre Project, a fantastic new immersive professional theater company.

This is not farce. This is real. Each spirit has been channeled from the afterlife to join us for this very special one-time event.

---

The brave literary club members who have volunteered their corporeal forms are:

Clifton Holznagel - Edgar Allen Poe
Heidi Hunter - Mary Shelley
Jason Weed - Bram Stoker

Leia Young - Emily Bronte
Todd Blankenship - Sheridan LeFanu

About the Literary Club:

The Washington County Literary Club meets in Beaverton to discuss famous works of fiction and non-fiction. Meetings take place on the last Saturday of this month at a different member's home. To join the club, simply bid high on the silent auction items. You'll be supporting Beaverton's only professional theater company who brings you free Shakespeare next summer at The Round at Beaverton Central.

About Experience Theatre Project:

Experience Theatre Project was founded with the belief that new, modern theater consists of innovation, immersion, and imagination. ETP strives to create a unique and inventive theater-going experience by bringing audience members into the moment through a collaboration of creative writers, performers, musicians, technology, digital media, and the community. ETP aspires to produce a wide-ranging repertoire that encourages the audience to not simply observe a play, but essentially feel as though you are an integral part of the performance (the experience). ETP's eclectic approach celebrates new voices, inspires and challenges audiences of all ages, and explores new and inventive ways in which to bring theatrical performance to a whole new level of storytelling.

NEXT IMMERSIVE EVENT will take place in March 2017 in an undisclosed location. Join Experience Theatre Project's email list or follow them on Facebook for updates on their upcoming shows and events.
